

Dana Dion Wilson

June 23, 1975 - June 18, 2024

Dana Dion Wilson was born on June 23, 1975 at Lallie Kemp hospital in Independence, Louisiana.

He was the first born grandchild to Rosa Lee and Ivery Wilson. He was adored by his Paw Paw Ivery, and little did we know, he would be the only grandchild that his Paw Paw would live to see.

Dana was educated in the Tangipahoa Parish School system; first attending Spring Creek and later attending Hammond High School. Early on, it was increasingly evident that he was a music and electronics enthusiast. He occasionally created new hip hop sounds and beats, and was ever ready to show off his latest tunes. Because of his love of music, he mastered the restoration of old stereos and speakers.

For years Dana was the “jack-leg” neighborhood barber for many friends, neighbors and relatives. Yet another skill that was self-taught accepting whatever they could pay because he actually enjoyed doing it.

Later on he developed an insatiable love for culinary arts. I dare say that most of you present here today have enjoyed eating some of his delectable treats.

Dana attended Union Chapel A.M.E. church as a youth, but upon moving to Hammond, Louisiana with his mother, he later joined The Harvest Church. It was there that he made the greatest decision of his life to accept Christ and was baptized.

Dana was a mild mannered soul, who was loved by many. In his immediate family, he was known as "Boy Frank" (a name affectionately given to him by his Aunt Rose).

Dana leaves to cherish his loving memory a devoted mother, Debra Wilson, of Kentwood, LA, a God-Brother, Bobby Magee, Jr., Slidell, LA; Four aunts, Rose Magee of Slidell, LA; Ivy Matthews (Ivan) of Kentwood, LA; Sharon Rhinehart (Jimmy) of Chesterfield, VA; and Tonya Diamond of MS; and a host of cousins, relatives and friends.

Dana was preceded in death by his Step-Father, Milton Imes, his Grandparents, Rosa Lee and Ivery Wilson, Great Grandmother, Henrietta Hills, three uncles, Bobby Magee Sr, Woodrow Wilson and Andrew Matthews.
